- Focuses on the results of your work.
- Aligns the institutional priorities throughout the organization so that we're all working toward the same end.

How Are Objectives Developed?

Guidelines for Writing Performance Objectives

Think About:

- How to translate tasks into results and differentiate between a task and the expected result(s) of the effort.
- The specific results you will be held accountable for.
- Why are you doing this? How will you know if your goal has been achieved?
- Who receives the service you provide?
- What do the recipients expect in terms of:
 - quality (90% very good or excellent on evaluations),
 - quantity (increase student enrollment by 5% over the previous year)
 - timeliness (resolve help desk tickets within 24 hours)?
- The SMART Criteria.

Manager communicates to employee job objectives for performance cycle

- Identify a minimum of 3 objectives (recommend no more than 5)
- Align job objectives to department objectives and foundational themes
- Ensure objectives meet S.M.A.R.T. criteria (Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant, and Time-Bound)
- Link objectives/key responsibilities to the job. Note: If 2 or more employees perform the same job, then objectives & responsibilities must be the same
- Specify a weighting for each objective/key responsibility

Professional Development Plan –

this section is used to identify skills, knowledge and abilities for future growth, growth in the current job or competency development.

Managers must:

- Partner with employee to establish plan to develop knowledge, skills and abilities;
 - Provide a timeline within performance review period for progress
 - Ensure employee is compliant in all University required training. Ask each employee to attach a copy of their training profile.

During the Performance Cycle

Check in with employees throughout the year to ensure employees are on track and objectives remain relevant

Note significant accomplishments, changes in direction, or areas for improvement

Any changes in objectives during the reporting period must be discussed with the employee and signed and dated by both manager and employee

No rating and no paperwork submitted to HR

End of Performance Cycle

- End of May - Request that employees submit self-assessment by June 30th.
- By July 31 - Prepare final assessment using the employee's self-assessment as a guide. Managers are asked to write their final assessment in the Formstack RED Form.
- Note: If you need additional time to submit your ratings, please contact your HR Services' representative.

Writing Comments

Note: If your manager is new this year, you should share with them a copy of last year's RED Form that was completed.

- Consult your performance log.
- Ensure that comments include specific, factual and descriptive examples that are job-related and behaviorally written.
- Make sure comments match the rating.
- Strive for clarity.
- Focus on accomplishments and results produced.
- Identify strengths and development areas.

Five-Point Rating Scale

Comments are required for each rating except PW

EP = Exceptional Performance	Performance consistently and significantly exceeds departmental and position expectations
PW+ = Performs Well Plus	Performs well in all aspects of the job, exceeds expectations in a few areas
PW = Performs Well (no written rationale required)	Performance consistently meets expectations and job requirements
NI = Needs Improvement	Performance consistently does not meet expectations and improvement is required.
DNM – Does not meet expectations	Performance does not meet expectations

Completing Your Self Assessment

- Seek agreement from your supervisor on the objectives you will assess in your evaluation.
- Write your self-assessment in a Word document.
- Be as honest and factual as possible.
- List all of your accomplishments from the year; note reasons for set-backs.
- Include enough specific details so that your manager understands your contributions.
- Highlight changes in priorities that arose during the cycle.
- Use the RED form to complete your self-assessment (copy and paste from the Word document into the Formstack RED Form)
- Send self-assessment to your manager prior to your performance discussion meeting.
- Expect your manager to add comments accordingly.
- Understand that your supervisor has final say.

Self-Assessment Samples

- I have been attending departmental meetings with the goal of making suggestions to improve work processes, and one of my suggestions, xxxxxxxx, resulted in a change in procedures that has saved the department over $2,000 this year alone.
- Despite the reduced headcount in our department, I have completed my database project on time and $1,000 under budget. As a result, students can now access their information in two clicks instead of four and the information is updated immediately instead of every 24 hours.
- During the past year, I documented 5 of 7 work processes that were used to train new student workers hired by the department. The documentation resulted in reduced time spent to train the student workers and now serve as desk procedures.

Participating in the Performance Discussion

- Refer back to your list of accomplishments.
- Complete your Self-Assessment before the meeting. Be objective about the things you did well and the areas where you could have done better.
- Be prepared to discuss your Self-Assessment during the meeting with your manager.
- Discuss areas you would like to develop and/or career interests you may have.
- Be open to feedback and ask questions if you don't understand something.

Tips for Conducting Virtual Feedback Meetings

- Supervisors should send to their direct reports, via email, the SAMPLE RED form complete with their narrative comments and ratings at least 24 hours before the scheduled meeting.
- Plan on each meeting to last 45-60 minutes.
- Conduct the meeting in-person, via TEAMS, or WebEx Meetings.
- Use your webcam for these meetings – it is important that supervisors and direct reports see each other.
- Discuss the present year's performance and toward the end of the meeting discuss next year's goals.
